COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE TOMORROW

BALL RENAMED POLICE CHIEF THIS MORNING

All Patrolmen Reappointed and Ball's Salary Raised.

TAX DISCUSSION

Commissioners Vote to Build Temporary Bridge In East End So That Street May Be Opened.

H. E. Ball was re-appointed Middlesboro chief of police at the Commissioners meeting this morning. Before this action was taken his salary was increased to $175 per month. Commissioner C. E. Cooke who nominated Reese Watkins for the position of chief voted against the re-appointment of Chief Ball.

The present patrolmen were reappointed to the force at their present salaries. These are: A. D. DeBusk, C. M. Yeary, Jess Hatton, W. B. White and Frank Crabtree. Reese Watkins was selected as a supernumerary officer for extra duties.

The proposition of increasing the salary of the chief from $150 to $175 per month was opposed by Commissioner Cooke who claimed that the city could not afford the extra expense. Chief Ball declared that his salary was lower than that of any police chief in the mountain towns. Mayor Keeney expressed the opinion that "Middlesboro has the best chief of any town in the mountains." The officers will be sworn in by City Judge C. A. Woods at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The matter of the East End bridge was settled by the city at the meeting when a motion was passed to have a temporary bridge built over the old for use until the new concrete bridge is made. The city and the state will jointly bear the expense of this temporary structure which will cost about $300. In view of the fact that certain complaints have been made against the repair work being done in the East End, the mayor and commissioners will inspect the work and, if satisfactory, will accept it for the city soon.

It was decided to notify the board of tax supervisors to begin work of adjusting the city taxes at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Because E. G. Sheafer who was appointed chairman of the board at a previous meeting finds he is unable to serve, T. H. Campbell was appointed in his place. The tax figures of William Wallbrecht, city assessor, for this year which were published in the Daily News last week were accepted at the meeting.

Detailed report from the city educational board showing the probable expenses for the coming scholastic year and the amount required to run the schools was submitted and accepted. The grand total required for the expenses, including the deficit of last year, is $94,900. The amount accruing to the fund from the state is estimated at $19,200 and that from local tuition $1,500, making a total of $20,700 of the expense which will not come from local taxpayers. This deducted from the grand total leaves $74,200 to be made up from city taxation. Indications are that a considerable deficit will result this year as the present tax figures will not cover the school budget.

Proposition of flooring the Cumberland avenue bridge which is in a bad state of repair was discussed and the commissioner of streets was advised to buy lumber for the job and have the work done later. The matter of building a suspension bridge over the creek in the West End was deferred for investigation. Plans for building a wagon bridge at the place were abandoned.

Considerable discussion resulted over the act of the two commissioners in appointing Dr. U. G. Brummett and Dr. C. K. Brosheer city physicians, Mayor J. H. Keeney being of the opinion that a bad bargain had been made. It was decided further to investigate the matter and determine whether or not the physicians would furnish medicine as well as service for the monthly allotment.

Cooperation, work, liberality mean success in the Community Chest drive to-morrow.

Enoch Arden Clause In Czech Marriage Laws.

By Associated Press.

PRAGUE, May 26.—The newly formulated bill regulating marriage in Czecho-Slovakia contains an "Enoch Arden" clause. It provides that, in the event of the return of a husband thought dead after the woman has re-married, he has no legal rights that can affect the new marriage.

The conditions that prevailed throughout Europe in the period just after the war, when the return of men missing or reported dead to find re-married wives, was an ordinary affair, probably inspired the law.

Otherwise the marriage act as framed follows those of most countries. Both civil and religious ceremonies are recognized. The marriageable age for males is fixed at 18 and for females 16.

GOOD ROADS DINNER TO BE WEDNESDAY

Two Governors Will Speak at the Banquet at Brown Hotel in Louisville.

Following is the invitation sent out over the state by the Kentucky Good Roads Association to their Good Roads banquet:

"Gov. William J. Fields, whose earnest and resolute leadership has done so much for the $75,000,000 bond issue movement will tell us of the great things he hopes to accomplish for Kentucky. Mr. Desha Breckinridge of Lexington, will be the toastmaster.

"There will be an informal reception to our guests of honor at 6:30 p. m, dinner being served in the ball room at 7:30 o'clock.

KENTUCKIAN FOUND DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

Former Scottsville Attorney In Poor Health, May Be Suicide.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—W. C. Goad, 27, attorney at Scottsville, Ky., was found dead in Long Beach today. A coroner is investigating the possibility of suicide.

SCOTTSVILLE, May 26.—W. C. Goad left here six months ago for the west for his health, accompanied by his wife who was formerly Miss Minnie Swain, music teacher. He was the son of W. C. Goad, Sr., prominent lawyer, who died twelve years ago.

COOKE TO LEAVE MIDDLESBORO SOON

Will Resign as City Commissioner to Take High I. O. O. F. Position.

Charles E. Cooke, commissioner of public safety and public finance, today announces his intention of resigning his position here July 1 and moving to Lexington to accept the position as Assistant Grand Secretary of the Kentucky I. O. O. F.

Arrangements for his acceptance of the new job were made during his attendance at the state Encampment meeting at Princeton. He was elected Grand Scribe during the recent convention and his new position also makes him Grand Instructor and supervisor of all the Kentucky lodges.

At the death of Grand Secretary R. G. Elliott as several months ago Assistant Grand Secretary William Davies succeeded to the place as Grand Secretary. Mr. Cooke, as Mr. Davies' assistant, will be the purchasing agent of the Oddfellow's Orphan's Home at Lexington in addition to his other duties.

Having been an Oddfellow for twenty-six years and being especially familiar with the finance and accounting of the order, Mr. Cooke is eminently fitted for the place as Grand Secretary, a position in which he can serve the order better than he has heretofore.

He has lived in Middlesboro since 1890. During his residence here he has been connected with the railway company, manager of the Western Union office, assistant postmaster, postmaster and city commissioner. He will dispose of his property on Nineteenth street before moving to Lexington.

The vacancy which will be created in the city government by the resignation of Commissioner Cooke will be filled by appointment if Mayor J. H. Keeney and Commissioner J. E. Evans can agree upon a successor. Both of the other two officials expressed regret that Mr. Cooke is preparing to resign his position and leave Middlesboro but stated that they were gratified to know he was being honored with a good position in the fraternity.

WEST VIRGINIA IS SURE TO GO FOR COOLIDGE

Primary Election to Be Held in That State Tuesday.

HAS NO OPPONENT

Particular Interest of Voting Will Center Around Nominations for State Officers.

By Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 26.—West Virginia voters, on May 27, will ballot in a presidential and state primary election, but the presidential feature is almost ignored.

The name of Calvin Coolidge stands alone on the Republican ballot, and the Democrats will have no presidential preference because no candidates filed announcements. The delegation of 19 to the Republican national convention is thus assured to the president, the state law pledging the delegates to the winner of the preferential primary. The Democrats' eight delegates at large, with one-half vote each, and the 12 district delegates, consequently have no official instructions.

Presidential candidacies are an issue only in the second congressional district where Samuel T. Spears of Elkins, supporting W. G. McAdoo, seeks to be one of the district delegates. Three of his six opponents, like a score of others in the state seeking election as Democratic delegates, appended to their official declaration of candidacy statements that they would support John W. Davis, who has been boomed as a "favorite son" candidate.

With five Republican and two Democratic candidates for nomination to the United States senate, six Republicans and four Democrats running for the gubernatorial nomination, and the candidates for the rest of the national, state, county and district tickets equally or more numerous, long ballots have resulted and slow counting of the vote is expected. Representative Benjamin Rosenbloom of the first congregational district; Walter S. Hallanan, former state tax commissioner; Wells Goodykoontz, former representative from the fifth district; Guy D. Goff, former assistant attorney general of the United States, and Dr. M. V. Gadbey of Charleston are the Republican senatorial candidates, while on the Democratic ballot former Senator W. E. Chilton opposes Mrs. Ivetta Jewell Brown, widow of a former congressman.

Except for Mr. Rosenbloom and Representative Reed in the third district, present congressmen seek renomination and T. J. Lilly, in the fifth district, is the only one having opposition.

2 NEGROES MOBBED IN FLORIDA TODAY

Accused of Attacking Girls—Bodies Are Riddled With Bullets, and Dragged Through Streets.

By Associated Press.

FOR MEYERS, Fla., May 26.—Bubbers Wilson and Wilton Wilhams, negroes, each about 20 years of age, were riddled with bullets by mobs here today and their bodies were dragged through the streets. The mob took Wilson from the sheriff and Williams was taken from a freight train. They were accused of attacking to young girls yesterday. The girls are reported to be in a serious condition.

Liquor Taken But No Arrests in Raid

Ninety gallons of mash and a pint and a half of whiskey were confiscated and destroyed by county officers on the mountain near Edgewood yesterday. No arrests were made.

There was evidence that a still had been recently in operation at the place and thatit had been removed. It is said that the operators of the still had been discovered on the previous day by some boys and they doubtless became frightened into moving the apparatus. Those participating in the raid were: Constable J.M. Thompson, his deputies, deputy sheriff and two citizens.

FOUR KILLED IN INDIANA WRECK

All From Louisville—One Was the Sister of Mrs. Herndon Evans of Pineville.

Mrs. Josephine Downing Webb, sister of Mrs. Herndon J. Evans of Pineville, was one in a party of four Louisville residents killed Saturday morning at Holton, Ind., when their automobile was rammed by a speeding passenger train as they were returning home from a vacation trip. The others killed were: Alves N. Webb, manager of the Progress Range and Stove Company, Mrs. Alves N. Webb, and Brent G. Webb, architect, Mrs. Josephine Webb's husband.

The Webbs left Louisville two weeks ago to motor through the East. After visiting Washington, their last stop, they began the homeward journey.

The wreck occurred at a dangerous railroad crossing at Holton, a few miles east of North Vernon. The Baltimore & Ohio train, running at a rapid rate of speed, crashed into the automobile, carried the wreckage 200 feet and left four occupants dead.

S. O. Bunton, Safety Agent for the road, was riding in the cab of the engine. He said "We were going at full speed when I saw the automobile drive into a gully ahead of us. The occupants realized their peril, but it was too late. They tried desperately to get out of the way, but I knew their efforts would be in vain, and it was distressing. Bodies of the women were hurled clear, but the men were carried on by the locomotive."

At the spot where the crash occurred the road drops into a gully to cross the railroad, obscuring the view of motorists on both sides. It is known as one of the most dangerous crossings on the B. & O. system.

In this case, according to reports received here, the Webbs apparently did not hear the train. They started and then saw the oncoming engine speeding to them. They were trapped.

To-morrow is your only opportunity to do your duty as a citizen to organized relief work. Help the Community Chest.

Campaign Committee Is Optimistic Over Outcome

City Fathers Lenient Toward Fortune Teller

Practical and stern city officials who usually are chary about granting license to outside persons and who invariably exact their pound of flesh when such concessions are allowed made an exception to the rule today.

Joe Mitchell, Brazilian clairvoyant, requested permission from the city to tell fortunes for one day in order to save the lives of his family of nine children and to recoup the losses suffered on the East End detour. It developed that his two automobiles which he uses to transport his family from place to place became mired in the mud of the detour and suffered serious mechanical damages.

He declared that he could make enough money telling fortunes in one day to pay for the repairs and also provide his family with sustenance.

KILLS SON, FIGHT OVER HORSE TRADE

By Associated Press.

SCOTTSVILLE, May 26.—Robert Cochran, 65, was shot and killed in a pistol duel with his son, Robert, Jr., 35, here Sunday evening. The slayer has escaped, despite a wide search. The shooting is said to hav resulted from a grude over a horse trade.

TAX BILL NOW UP TO THE PRESIDENT

House Passes Simmons Reduction Measure—Goes to Coolidge for Signature.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The House today approved the conference tax bill already passed by the Senate providing for reduction of taxes for almost every Federal taxpayer. The measure now goes to the president. It carries a 25 per cent reduction on income taxes payable this year, a permanent revision downward of income rates, repeal or lowering of most of the miscellaneous and excise taxes, and 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes of $10,000 or under.

Big Parade Will Be a Feature in the Morning.

TO CANVASS TOWN

Chest Will Indicate Just How the Funds Are Coming In—Public Is Invited to Pep Meeting Tonight.

The vote of the big Community Chest drive finds Middlesboro people, particularly the campaign committee, very enthusiastic and optimistic over the outcome. Final and complete organization of forces will be effected at the meeting of captains, lieutenants, team workers and the general public at the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Team and committee members become more and more sure of a successful drive as the time for the big event draws nearer. Every man who has been called upon to work in the drive has responded nobly and all express confidence that the work will be done quicker and more thoroughly than was done last year. Former experience in the work makes many of the details easier.

The big parade which will precede the drive will form at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. In this spectacular street performance will be staged by the city school children, Girl scouts, the Salvation Army and children from the Grace Nettleton Home, headed by their superintendent, Miss Elizabeth Jackson. Appropriate banners will be carried by these various beneficiaries and floats may be provided by some of the organizations represented in the parade.

unique and expressive method of keeping the public informed of the progress of the campaign will be used. The picture of a chest, representative of the Community Chest, will be made as the donations are reported. With each board on the chest representing $1,000 in collections, the public can see the success of the work as new planks are added until the quota of $17,500 is reached. This will be placed at the Weinstein building near the place occupied by the giant thermometer last year.

The drive will start immediately after the parade and, in view of the fact that there are so many team members, it is expected that the work will be practically finished by noon.

The work of advertising the campaign and "talking it up" on every possible occasion has been thoroughly done and it is not likely that there is any person in Middlesboro who is not familiar with the purpose of it and certainly none have been heard to deny the appropriateness of such a drive.

To-morrow will be a gala day for Middlesboro, one in which the people will join in a united whirlwind effort to fill the Chest. All will await with expectancy the outcome of the drive and watch its progress by the headquarters symbol.

The attention of the public is again called to the fact that payments may be made either by cash or in ten monthly installments. This will enable all to give according to their means without working a hardship on any one.

The general public, as well as the officers and team members, is invited to attend the big meeting at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock to-night at which time final arrangements for the drive will be formulated and announced. W. C. Stair, general chairman of the campaign, cordially invites all to be present and take part in the discussion.

Cumberland Gap Brick Plant Open

The cement brick plant at Cumberland Gap owned by G. W. Fortner was scheduled to begin operation today, according to information received from there. The plant which is able to make cement blocks of any size will have a capacity of several hundred daily. A new frame building was recently erected for the work and it was expected that the equipment would be moved there and other arrangements completed for the operation of the plant today.

Rumor of L. and N.-Southern Differences Officially Denied

Official denial of the report concerning a disagreement between the Southern and th L. and N. Railways was made today at L. and N. headquarters in answer to the persistent rumor regarding the matter that has even penetrated into a number of the columns of city papers, labelled as "unofficially reported" This rumor has it that the Southern Railway considers retiring from Middlesboro coal fields permanently because of these differences.

The story is ridiculously false from every standpoint. The only contract that has expired recently was that of the Middlesboro railroad which ran out more than a year ago. This rental, any way, is on the per car basis, the railroad paying only for what cars they load on the road, and there is no arbitrary expense to the Southern.

The rights of the Southern Railway Company to joint and equal use of the L. & N. track in question and facilities, including the Cumberland Gap tunnel, are perpetual. The contract was effected on November 4th, 1896 for a period of fifty (50) years which will not expire until November 4th, 1946 and, moreover, it is renewable in like periods forever.

There has never been any controversy between the two Companies with respect to the rental of such facilities and, as indicating the absurdity of the false charge that the L. & N. R. R. Co. is demanding a rental of $40,000 per month, the current rental under the contract is $700. per month.

The effect of this story, and its wide circulation through the Associated Press, is to place the L. & N. in the attitude of having arbitrarily restricted the market of the coal mines in the Middlesborough territory, thereby encouraging all ill-feeling and prejudice toward this Company which cannot, perhaps, be fully counteracted.

Under-privileged Child To Be Discussion Here Tonight

The last day of the advertising campaign for the Middlesboro Community Chest has been chosen to emphasize the importance of the latest beneficiary to the fund.—the Under-Privileged Child. Dr. U. S. Brummett, who, as a Kiwanian and Christian citizen, is thoroughly familiar with the subject and cognizant of the need for the work here, will speak briefly on the subject to-night at the Manring theiter.

The Under Privileged Child movement was taken up by the Kiwanis club here last year as it was by other clubs throughout the country. It was deemed advisable to finance the proposition which is certainly a public responsibility through the medium of the Community Chest. Accordingly, $850 of the fund will be used for the unfortunate children of Middlesboro who fall in this class.

"It is the purpose of the Under-Privileged Child workers to enable every crippled child in Middlesboro to walk and to give every poor child a good education," Dr. U. G. Brummett who is active in the movement stated recently. This work can be done, as far as is humanly possible, if the Community Chest is filled in the drive to-morrow so that the funds will be available for the work.

The poverty-stricken and physically deficient little boys and girls of Middlesboro glimpse a ray of hope in the Community Chest drive this year. They who cannot help themselves are begging those more favored by fortune to give them a fighting chance in life. This will be done if the Community Chest is filled to-morrow.

Hear Dr. Brummett at the Manring theater to-night.

PAY YOUR DEBT TO HUMANITY

On the eve of the city-wide Community Chest campaign for 1924-25 Middlesboro people are confronted with the problem of either supporting the measure as a unit or failing to reach the quota and taking a backward step.

Surely no argument is needed to prove the merits of the Community Chest. We have but to remember how smoothly, efficiently and adequately our charities and civic propositions were supported last year with funds collected in a single drive. This condition contrasted with that of previous years when drives for various organizations were made with such frequency as to constitute a nuisance shows the advantage of the organized system.

Middlesboro people have never failed in any project in which all the people were interested. On previous occasions they have manifested their ability to join forces and work as a body for a definite goal—and win. We have all the necessary conditions—the spirit of cooperation, ability to work and willingness to give—for the drive to-morrow and will surely come out victorious.

Now is Middlesboro's opportunity to show the other towns of this section that it can put over an unselfish proposition as it did last year. A successful campaign to-morrow will be a splendid advertisement of the town, indicating that the people here have material, means and a proper sense of their obligation toward our dependent persons and institutions.

Inscribe your name on honor roll of humanity to-morrow when the solicitor presents a subscription card. Either give in this cause as liberally as your means will permit or go through the year with a consciousness that others have borne your share of the public burden.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ADVERTISE.

(By William H. Rankin)

Arthur Brisbane, always on the job—right up to the minute—has the following to say recently in his 'Today's Column'—

"Of two American geese talking to each other, often one is asking, 'What do you think about business? Will the national election disturb prosperity, etc., etc.' The United States hasn't started on its prosperity. With Mellon in the Treasury the nation's debts are cut down. Meanwhile the people are saving and putting away thirty million dollars a day, in savings banks and good investments. Why worry?

"No one realizes how things grow in America, how rapidly we are climbing toward gigantic enterprises, worthy in size of the richest country. Recently some figures of New York's National City Bank were published. In May, 1893, deposits in that bank amounted to twenty-two millions, and total resources to twenty-five millions.

"On April 1 of this year the bank's deposits were seven hundred and forty millions, the total resources nine hundred and thirty-four millions.

"In the report of this April the bank showed among its assets more than ninety-five millions of United States government bonds and certificates. And in thirty days that have elapsed since that report was published, the bank has a profit of a million and a quarter on the increased value of its government bonds.

"This isn't a government to sell short, and not one to make its citizens worry.

"You know the story of the man that was frightened to death by practical jokers. They tied him to a chair, gagged him, put his feet in warm water, told him they were going to cut the soles of his feet and let him bleed to death. The water was colored red, the dull side of a razor was passed across the soles of his bare feet, and the man, believing that he was bleeding to death, actually died of heart failure. That was a foolish joke. Don't frighten prosperity to death."

I read this on the train this morning. It was inspiring and resounding. And because it confirmed in a large measure my own information, I was prompted to send this article to a list of advertisers and business men: now, rather than later, because now is the opportune time to reach happy contented and financially properous people—now when they have money to invest in meritorious, worth-while merchandise—now, through the newspapers and farm papers because the advertiser can reach them quickest and most effectively.

What we want the newspaper men and farm paper men to do is to sell their own space, redouble their efforts and advertise the value of their publication in their own columns. Help take the advertiser's goods off the dealers' shelves. Help sell the dealers' automobiles, tires, batteries, etc. Let all advertisers know that now is the time to really advertise, and help their salesmen sell more goods—NOW—the opportune time.

REGARDING RUMORS

The rumor of antagonism between the Southern and L. and N. railways, so effectively answered elsewhere in this issue by W. L. Mapother, president of the L. and N., is but a sample of the way in which rumors circulate, even when they have not the slightest grounds for existence. This story, persisted in long enough would be very detrimental to both railroads.

It seems almost impossible for people to be accurate, even in a story with some foundation. Any disaster or shooting is always multiplied as many times at it is told. Recently we heard that Middlesboro L. and N. employes were selling their property here because they believed the offices were soon to move to Corbin. This with no substantiation whatever. Yesterday it was reported that sixteen people on the Blue Goose bus were killed by a train hitting it, when the train didn't even come near it. And think of the personal scandals which are spread daily by gossips and hearsay. Wouldn't it be a good thing to substantiate any rumor we hear before repeating it?

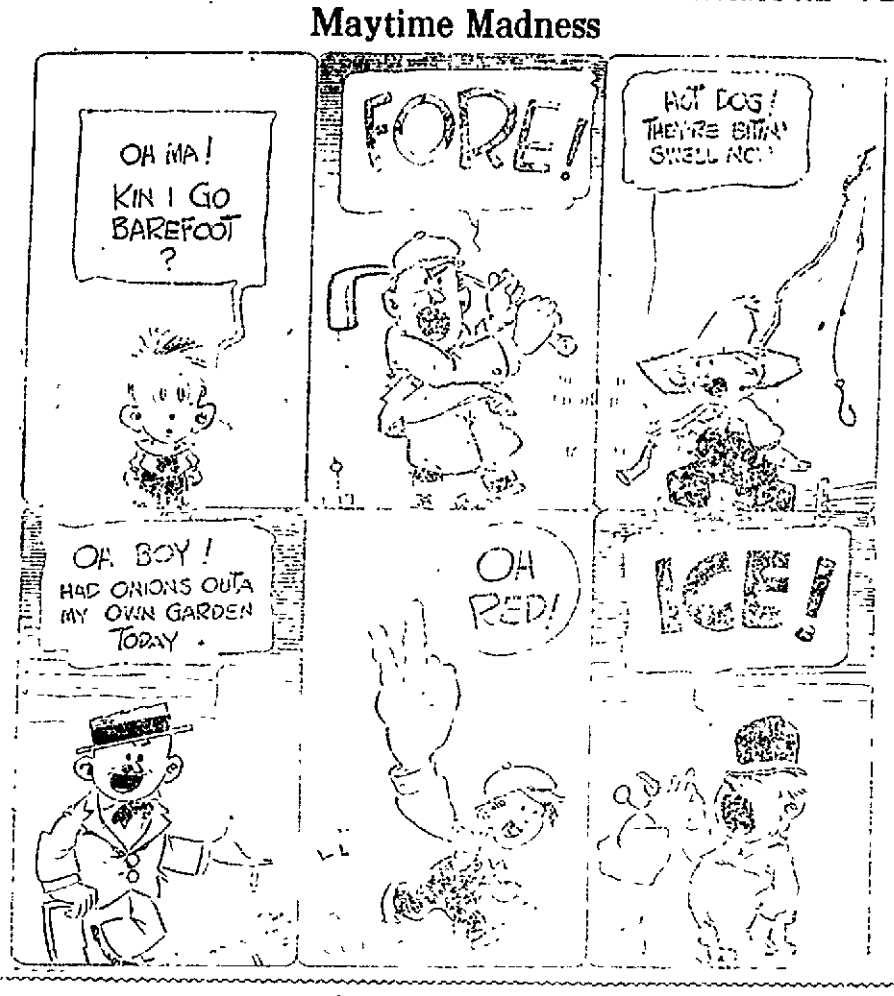
Voting 65 Years, Finds He Isn't a Citizen of the U. S.

By Associated Press.

SEATTLE, May 24.—E. W. Binnis, 86, of Seattle, veteran of the Civil War, who voted for Abraham Lincoln twice and who has cast his ballot for every Republican presidential candidate since 1860, has recently found out he is not a citizen and cannot vote for a candidate this fall.

When Binnis went to register the clerk of a Seattle registration office found out that he was born in England, that he was not naturalized, though he had voted since 1860, and that, while he thought his father was a naturalized citizen of the United States, he could not produce a copy of his father's naturalization papers. Binnis' father died 30 years ago.

Maytime Madness



HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 24.—All the big guns of the Republican old guard forces, charged to the muzzles with shrapnel and T.N.T., have been concentrated in a terrific political barrage designed to blast the chances of Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa for renomination as Republican candidate for the United States senate.

Why this massing of forces is deemed necessary against one individual, may be understood when it is known that the man thus opposed by this concentration of stand-pat heavy artillery was—actually, not figuratively—the crack sharpshooter of the American army during the late war and in politics has shown an equal facility in scoring bull eyes.

Senator Brookhart is even more hated by the old guard Republicans than is LaFollette, and next to La Follette is the most feared. Threats, intimidation, all the pull and pressure that can be exerted by the powers that be in Washington have failed to swerve him in his fight against the pet policies of the Republican 'regulars" and for measures which his party opposition brand as "radical' and 'destructive."

Brookhart was a leader in the fight which blocked the selection of his Republican fellow senator from Iowa, Albert B. Cummins, for another term as chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, which passes on railroad legislation. This naturally, won him the enmity of all the groups and interests favorable to the Esch-Cummins law, which was thus made vulnerable.

He fathered the resolution for an investigation of the conduct of the Department of Justice, which resulted in the dismissal of Attorney General Daugherty and disclosed a story of graft and corruption "influence" and favoritism that is still uncompleted. In a dozen other ways he has disturbed the peace and the patience of party chiefs who believe that first-term senators, like good little boys, "should be seen and not heard" and should obey the orders of their seniors and paternal party "leaders."

Since Brookhart would do none of these things, and not only has spoken out in meeting but has preached doctrines that ring of rank heresy to old guard Republican ears, the order has gone out to "get" him.

"Iowa Republicans, Beat Brookhart," is the admonition in large type heading an appeal being mailed into that state to every registered Republican voter.

"The Republicans of Iowa," says this document, "owe it to themselves, their state, their party and their country to defeat Senator Smith W. Brookhart for renomination at the primary to be held on June 2.

"Brookhart should be defeated because he is not a Republican, but an implacable enemy of Republicanism.

And so on to the extent of about 5,000 words, in which the fighting Iowa sharpshooter is pictured as a man likely to overthrow the whole kit and kaboodle of our cherished American institutions and ideals, substituting therefor a government more wild and weird than anything Nikolai Lenin ever dreamed.

"Old stuff," sanks Brookhart, grinning as he reads the document. They said all that two years ago when I was first elected.

"This is simply an effort of the privileged interests, headed by the railroads, to discredit and defeat me. My people in Iowa will recognize it for what it is. I'll leave it to them to decide."

Brookhart isn't even leaving Washington in an effort to protect his fences in Iowa.

He'll stay on the job here, leaving his enemies no opportunity to slip something across while he's away.

And, if he's worried or nervous, it doesn't show to date in his trigger finger.

ROAD CONDITIONS GETTING BETTER

Travelers From South Coming Steadily Over Eastern Dixie.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 24.—Reports indicate that travelers are coming over the Eastern Dixie from the south, it is commented in the weekly Detour and Road Conditions bulletin, made public by the department fo state roads and highways as follows:

It seems that the final touches to repair work south of the Madison-Rockcastle line are about completed.

The road through Decoursey, Kenton, and Demosville is still closed, while repairs are being made south of Kenton. Southbound traffic from Cincinnati should cross the river at Newport, then go by way of Alexandria, and Grant's Lick to Butler. At Butler turn to right to avoid construction south of town, and go to the LLL road then turn left and go three miles to Greenwood and on to Falmouth; then go through Cynthiana and Paris to Lexington. Excepting a few rough places this road is in good condition to Lexington.

The LLL road south of Covington between Independence and the Pendleton county line is under construction. There are several detours and a difficult ford to cross. For safe and certain going take the Alexandria route just described.

The Dixie highway south of Covington is under construction. Local traffic through Florence and Williamstown should detour at Walton and Dry Ridge.

From Lexington to Rockcastle county line there are two rough stretches of three miles each. (See Rockcastle county.)

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY—From the Madison county line to Mt. Vernon is rough, but repairs are being made Most of the traffic going via Nicholasville, Camp Dicks Robinson, Lancaster, Crab Orchard, and Mt. Vernon, to avoid repair work. In traveling from Mt. Vernon to Livingston, keep the main road which is in good condition excepting the new earth grade one mile north of Livingston; this at present is in fair condition, and traffic going through with but little difficulty From Livingston to Rockcastle River the gravel surface is in good condition.

LAUREL COUNTY—The earth grade just south of Rockcastle River is in good condition at present. Traffic is going through with ease in dry weather. The waterbound macadam section joining this on the south is in excellent condition.

WHITLEY COUNTY—Macadam road from Corbin to Williamsburg is in excellent condition. From Williamsburg to Jellico, the graded earth road is good in dry weather; traffic going through with ease except immediately after rain. From Corbin, travelers bound for Tennessee and beyond should take the "Bone Way."

KNOX COUNTY—Tennessee traffic should go by way of Barbourville, Pineville and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap. Grade and drain construction in progress between Corbin and Barbourville. The road three miles south of Corbin by way of Woodbine and Dishman Springs to Barbourville is now in good condition. Road through Barbourville to Pineville, and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap in good to excellent condition. Watch for the "Invisible Track Road" in Pineville; you will know it by the four longitudinal ruts in the surface.

M. W. A. Encourages Camp Baseball Teams

Baseball teams in local Camps are given official encouragement by the Modern Woodmen of America as a means of promoting healthful outdoor recreation and improving the physical standards of its members. County, district, and even state leagues are maintained in many parts of the country. Team captains are commissioned by the Head Consul, or president, of the Society, and the nines under them are thereby qualified for contests in official circuits. Favorable terms are arranged for the purchase of supplies and uniforms, and regulations and schedules are provided for contests. County league contests from July 1 to September 1, and those for state honors are held during the month of September. Baseball teams are regarded as auxiliaries of the local Camps.

"Charges to June"
A FAVOR TO CHARGE CUSTOMERS

Advertisements of a majority of the Louisville merchants during the last days of May contained announcements that purchases on charge accounts during the last four or five days of the month would be carried over to the June ledgers and would not appear on bills rendered until the first of July. Similar credit extensions are given at the end of every month.

They are extra considerations to the charge customer, who is thus given considerably more than the usual thirty days' credit. They also recognize the fact that the end-of-the-month charge purchases, if payable on the first, would not offer much advantage to the customer.

Most of all, they are further demonstrations of the desire of the merchant to meet charge customers more than half way. And in view of this extra consideration thus shown, the obligation on the charge customer to make prompt monthly settlements is increased. Fair play calls for fair play.

Charge accounts are invariably thirty-day accounts. They are not to be confused with "Club Plan" accounts which are on a different basis altogether. Your monthly statement contains only items purchased on your charge account, and it is always a statement that is due and payable on the very day it reaches you.

(Eighteenth of a series of talks on personal credit addressed to people who have charge accounts.)

THE TENT SPEAKS
By Same J. Banks

I am the symbol of the soul of the circus—
For if the soul of the circus is anything,
It is the soul of the gypsy.
I am the charm of the Out-of-Doors—
The charm of blue sky; of fleecy white clouds,
Of storms-clouds; of wind, of rain;
Of crimson and golden sunsets,
Of glorious sunrises;
Of dew in Summer and frost in Autumn;
Of sun and moon and stars—
The burning, pulsing, throbbing stars—
The red and silver and blue and gold-end stars.
I am also the symbol of happiness,
For I am the psychology of the laughing,
Shoving, pushing, joyous, care-free crowd;
To me human nature is an open book,
Wherever I go, men, women and children,
Of all castes and colors,
Keep me company.
Thus it is that I get out of life
Much more than I could possibly derive
If I were the palace of a king,
Or the office of a business man,
Or a store, or a hotel, or a church,
Or any other kinds of a building.

Alumni Banquet Is Friday Night

Plans for the alumni banquet to be held at the Hotel Cumberland at 8 o'clock Friday night have been made by the officers and the committees in charge and indications are that it will be a very successful affair. All Middlesboro High School alumni are urged to attend this banquet and to make their reservations for it at once with one off the officers, who follow: President, George Callison; first vice-vice-president, Mrs. H. C. Martin; second vice president, Martin Stopinski; secretary and treasurer, Miss Cornelia Avent. There are a large number of alumni here and it is pointed out that, if their organization were strong enough, they could do many things for the local schools.

Straight Creek Musician Appears In Cincinnati.

The mere announcement that little Miss Lena Pope of Straight Creek, Ky., was to give another recital at the Norwood city hall in Cincinnati last Friday night served to attract an audience of several hundred music lovers who enthusiastically applauded every number of her piano and vocal program.

By her winsome and unaffected manner, the little lady also completely won the hearts of her audience.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Lena Pope appeared in Cincinnati a year ago when she was eleven years old and amazed her audience by her interpretation of classical numbers as well as by her accurate technique, and her appearance this year showed marked improvement in both. She is being given a musical education at the college of music at Lexington. First discovered as a genius in playing the piano she is now developing what promises to be an equally wonderful ability in singing.

The program of last Friday included selections from Bach, Mozart, Chopin, as well as a few lighter classical numbers.—Appalachian Trade Journal.

Here are six reasons why the real Orange-Crush is so utterly delicious: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes); (3) Orange juice; (4) Pure carbonated water; (5) U. NEBRASKA'S PRIZE BEAUTY GIVES LIST OF PSYCHOLOGY TESTS FOR HUSBANDS

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN

NEW YORK, May 24.—Pick your husband by psychology!

Apply big business methods to the business of marriage!

A job's a job at home or in an office. And only the best applicant should fill it.

That's the theory of Miss Alyce McCormick, 23 year old prize beauty of Nebraska, and daughter of a colonel of the Volunteers of America. And she has come to New York to put it into practice.

Long lines of applicants pass before her daily—both at the Mason's Fashion and Home Exposition, where she is the center of attraction, and at her Greenwich Village hotel where she has the bell-hops gasping. But so far none has passed the test.

Fourteen men have tried to make her change the method of selection by making alluring offers of marriage.

"But I will not have any of them," says the determined miss. "I have seen too many marriages go on the rocks because of unscientific arrangements.

"And I am going to take no chances."

So she goes on patiently awaiting the applicant who can stand the tests.

There is a long list of these.

First, of course, is Miss McCormick's reaction. If the appearance of the man strikes her, she puts him to the first test.

She smiles and her psychologists watch:

The MAN'S REACTIONS—if too bright a glitter comes into his eye, or too dull a look, he is passed up. But if just the proper shade of pleasantness, he is allowed to go on.

Then comes the test:

For IMPRESSION—light chatter about things in general, and Miss McCormick's ideas in particular, bring about an expression of incredulity, or concurrence. By this the psychologists make their second judgment.

"It's easy to tell whether a man's fibbing or sincere," says Miss McCormick in an aside. "And I find that most of them are fibbers."

If perchance the applicant gets this far, he is subjected to more detailed tests—conducted privately.

His PATIENCE is tested by long waiting for the next experiment.

His RESOURCEFULNESS—by solving a puzzle in a certain length of time.

His INGENUITY—by piecing together blocks in a certain design.

His ADJUSTABILITY—by quick changes from one problem to another, employing different faculties.

His NEATNESS—by arranging figures and objects in certain combinations within a requisite time.

His TOLERANCE—by his reactions to disturbing factors during certain of these experiments.

His MENTAL CAPACITIES—by remembrance tests, arithmetic problems, and word analogies.

"And if he is still in the running," says Miss McCormick, "we have other tests."

These gauge:

His REACTION TO CHILDREN—by having some of them run into the room when not expected, and pester the applicant with innumerable annoyances.

His REACTION TO OLD PEOPLE—by introducing a Civil War veteran who insists on telling his story, or an old grandmother who likes to reminisce.

His DETERMINATION—by getting his invitation to a theatre, or some other affair.

"If he asks 'Would you like to go to see So-and-So,' he fails in this test. But if he says with force 'We are going to see this play tonight,' he passes.

"And if prohibition weren't in effect I would have another test—that of getting the man slightly drunk, so as to watch the reactions of his subconscious mind, stripped of the inhibitions which are self-imposed."

No one has been able to pass these tests yet.

"But I'm still hopeful," closes Miss McCormick. "Though it is beginning to look that big business methods perhaps are not easily applicable to the business of marriage."

Eugene Brown Goes Into Auto Business

Owners of automobiles will be interested in knowing that Eugene Brown has secured the Franklin agency and has gone into the automobile business again. He will conduct a modern service station for all makes of cars on 22nd St., back of the McKay block.

Mr. Brown is a thoroughly experienced automobile man, both in the sales and mechanical end. He will be particularly remembered for his work for Uncle Sam, having organized the technical training department of the air service at one of the largest aviation schools of the Navy air service. He was employed on motor design at the Buick factory, and later at the Chevrolet plant. Electricity and radio are his specialties. All work will have his personal supervision.

Selecting The Peppers

The main object in selecting varieties of peppers is to secure sweet-mild-fleshed varieties suitable for salads and a few of the hot kinds for flavoring pickles. It is always a disappointment and worse than that to set one's teeth in a crisp slice of green pepper and find that you have picked up a hot one instead of a sweet one.

This accident can be avoided by selecting the right types Ruby King is one of the most widely grown pepmildest by any manner of means. It often gets pretty nippy. Magnum Dulce, Chinese Giant. Pimento and Sweet Upright are sweet varieties while young, but accumulate strength and teeth as they age and while still green are deceptive, so plant only those of guaranteed sweet flavor. Early Neapolitan is one of the earliest to come into bearing of the sweeter sorts.

For concentrated heat as desired, the smaller peppers are the order The old-fashioned cayenne will rival the base burner and the red chilis behe their name violently. The redhot one of the lot is the tabasco. The best way to secure a succession is to select varieties according to their season. Early Neapolitan ripens two weeks before Bull Nose or Ruby King, these two being inclined to heat toward maturity. Crimson Giant is one of the earliest types and an excellent sort. Chinese Giant requires the longest season to mature and should not be planted in the northern tier of states.

The Pimento, a rather new introduction, is one of the best of the sweet-fleshed peppers for the home garden as it is safe and sure to be of fine and mild flavor. Its flesh is thick and it is suitable to can or dry when ripe.

Lon Chaney Principal In Hunchback Notre Dame

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame," will play here June 2 and 3. Booking of this wonder picture is one of the most important announcements in local theatrical circles in many weeks.

The farce of the Victor Hugo classic in its celluloid form has been so generally known that it is hardly necessary to dwell upon its greatness. During the first five months following its premier at the Astor Theater in New York City it was shown only in the largest legitimate theaters of the United States. It established a record at the Astor by running for more than six months to capacity crowds.

Lon Chaney heads the notable cast of 3091 players which includes such brilliant artists as Patsy Ruth Miller, Ernest Torrence, Brandon Hurst, Tully Marshall, Nigel de Brulier and Winnifred Bryson. The majority of the seventy-five principals are as well known on the stage as they are on the screen. The production in its film form has been endorsed by the clergy of all denominations.

WELLES SELLS U. S. POLICY

BY BOB DORMAN

TONCONTIN, Honduras, May 24.—Sumner Welles has an interesting job. He is Uncle Sam's traveling salesman this line, the policy of the United States toward those countries lying between North and South America.

That policy he outlines as follows:

"The encouragement of government by constitutional and orderly methods, with the recognition in each case of the absolute freedom of each republic to determine its own destinies, the form fo government under which it exists, and the person or persons who are to guide the destinies of that country.

"To aid in carrying out that policy by lending moral support and recognition to every constitutional government."

To aid in carrying out that policy he came to Honduras from Santo Domingo.

He traveled 200 miles across mountains and rivers: he uses railroads, launches, autos and mules.

He found the blues besieging Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, the last stronghold of the reds.

He found discord and disagreement already existing among the blues: only awaiting the final fall of the city to flare into open war.

It was his task not only to heal that breach, but to arrange some settlement that would keep the reds from plotting another revolution; and to secure some government that the United States could recognize.

He took up his quarters in the American legationin Tegucigalpa.

He held daily conferences with the leaders of both sides, trying to arrange some settlement.

This required daily trips between the lines of the warring factions.

Theoretically firing ceased when his auto passed through the lines.

But always, as soon as the auto of the American had passed into the no-man's land between the trenches, the reds would open fire, their bullets passing just over the heads of the party.

Should the blues have returned the fire, the reds would have immediately opened up with all their guns, and on the plea of battle would have tried to excuse any injury to the Americans.

Fortunately the blues kept their agreement better than the reds.

Despite this danger and the more petty annoyance of tropical heat and clouds of mosquitoes and fleas, Mr. Welles carried on his work and the daily conferences were held, which will determine whether or not constitutional government is to reign in Honduras.

To Erect New Monument To Americans Lost At Sea

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A new shrine to American valor at sea is to take its place soon among the monuments and memorials here in the nation's capitol to the great dead of America. Wrought in bronze, it will stand at the brink of the peaceful Potomac that the river may bear with it to the sea a message of remembrance to those who have gone down to the sea in ships for the flag, whether in ships of war or plodding merchantmen, never to return.

It will be a national monument to those through all the years who have served in the Navy and merchant marine on the sea, and it will be dedicated to "Americans Lost at Sea."

Across the wide river, high among the rolling Virginia hills, are the clustering monuments and shafts of Arlington National Cemetery where many who died heroic deaths rest amid their military honors.

But the new tribute to the valor of those who have died at sea in war or in peace will stand close down beside the river with the quiet waters lapping it as they pass on to join the sea beyond the Virginia capes. It will be built by popular subscription to cost $500,000 or more and already the site has been set aside by law and the form of the memorial itself been decided by the members of the committees who are, for the most part, ment who have served America on the waters all around the world.

The spirit in which this new altar of patriotism has been conceived is told by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, (retired), chairman of the committee in charge of its erection.

"There is no such monument any where in the world," Admiral Fiske said.

"There is no monument that attests any appreciation by men and women of the dangers which the men of the sea have braved, or the conquest of these dangers which they have achieved. There is no visible reminder of our debt to the men of the sea for securing that safe passage of the sea which has welded widely separated countries into a coherent world.

"Though monuments to military commanders adorn selected spots in all the civilized countries of the earth, only a few monuments to naval men exist, and virtually all of these commemorate war achievements only. The long and hazardous voyages of mere seamen who made the ocean safe for commerce and spread civilization over the earth, though told in song and story, have never received the recognition which all men knew to be the highest; that of an enduring monument ,erected on some exalted spot, where it can be seen of men.

"Such a tribute it is the intent of the Navy and Marine Memorial Association to render the men of the sea; but it will memorize, as well, those from whom the supreme sacrifice was not required, but who braved the same dangers as those from whom it was required, and stood equally ready to make it. It says that the countless millions who have profited by their work that they must not forget that work, or neglect the men who did it.

"So, while this monument symbolizes the grandeur of the sea, it powerfully suggests the grandeur of the seaman's art, which has made a conquest of the sea and marked a myriad of paths across its forbidding waters. And it calls upon every one to visualize what seamen have done for him, and to pay a rightful tribute to those who, through all the dim centuries of the distant past, has 'gone down to the sea in ships, and have done their business in great waters.'"

NEW BOOK TELLS CHILDREN'S NEEDS

Foundation Releases Volume Compiled by Eminent Child Specialists.

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 26.—The Children's Foundation began today to deliver to State and Municipal Departments of Education, libraries, schools, and the various national, educational, religious and welfare organizations of the country, its first important contribution to the well-being of childhood and youth.

The contribution is comprised in a volume bearing the title, "The Child; His Nature and His Needs." It consists of over 500 pages and is provided with extensive bibli-ographies and many charts and illustrations.

"The Child: His Nature and His Needs" represents an attempt to state in simple non-technical language what is known today regarding child nature, well-being, and child education.

The United States Commissioner of Education, Hon. John J. Tigert, is a member of the special staff that prepared the study. Dr. Tigert's contribution is entitled "The Need of Bridging the Gap Between Our Knowledge of Education and Our Educational Practice."

In organizing the staff, consisting of a score of eminent specialists in the field of child well-being, the Foundation drew from the faculties of the leading universities and from persons who have been engaged in extensive research work for other foundations and various welfare movements. Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Northwestern, Ohio, Wisconsin, Washington, Tufts Medical College, Massachusetts State Normal School contributed members to the staff. M. V. O'Shea, Professor of Education, the University of Wisconsin, is the Editor-in-Chief of the contribution.

The Children's Foundation was established through an initial gift by Lewis E. Myers, of Valparaiso, Indiana, and was chartered by the State of Indiana as a corporation not for profit, December 24th, 1921. The important objects of the Foundation are the study of the child and the dissemination of knowledge promotive of the well-being of children.

GRAPHIC COMPARISON IN "STATISTICAL" STRENGTH OF THE FIVE BIG NAVAL POWERS.

By Charles P. Stewart

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Theoretically two up-to-the-minute fighting ships of the same class are about on a par from the standpoint of strength.

An American capital ship should break practically even with a capital ship under the British, Japanese French, Italian or any other flag. America has 18 such. Great Britain, when the Nelson and Rodney are finished, as they will be soon,and the older and smaller George V, Ajax, Centurian and Thunderer have been scrapped to make room for the new pair, will have 20.

But in practice it doesn't follow that America, in the matter of capital ships, has nine-tenths of Britain's strength.

For one thing, a number of America's ships require recquipment to adapt them to oil instead of coal. Fueling an oil burner is quicker work than coaling and more oil than coal can be carried, meaning a wider radius of operations. Besides, especially on the Pacific, oil is easier to get.

Our older ships also need re-boilering and modern protection against submarines and airplanes.

Meaning of Elevation

More important than anything is the matter of gun elevation.

Our guns, at their present elevation, have about 20,000 yard range. At the time of the war, when they were anxious to have the news get out and scare the Germans, British naval officers' told ours that, by increasing their elevation, they'd increased their range to 30,000 yards. They deny it now, because they don't want us to increase ours; if they have an advantage they prefer to keep it.

Many people believe England has protested diplomatically against any increased elevation of American guns. This isn't true. Though her propaganda, England has tried to give the impression that she protested, hoping thus to make Americans think their navy would be breaking the armament limitation treaty by increasing their guns' range. In fact ,she hasn't protested, having no ground for doing so.

How We Stand

Formerly hits could be made only by accident beyond 20,000 yards, but that was before the days of airplane spotting.

Italy, France and Japan have respectively 8, 9 and 10 capital ships.

Of hogh speed light cruisers under 10 years old the five powers have: America 7, Great Britain 35, Japan 13, France 3, and Italy 5. They are building respectively 3, 4, 12, 3 and none. None of them is up to the "5-5-3-1.75--1.75 basis except Japan.

Of the modern destroyers America has 274, Great Britain 196, Japan 63, France 21 and Italy 32. They are building respectively none, 5, 31, 18 and 7.

Of long radius submarines above 1000 tons, America has 3, Great Britain 10, Japan 2 and neither France nor Italy any at all.They are building respectively 3, none, 23, 9 and none.

Of coast defense submarines America has 78, Great Britain 22, Japan 31, France 24 and Italy 10. They are building respectively 15, 5, 18, 12 and none.

Japan Meets Quota

In the matter of long radius submarines all the powers are short of the "5-5-3-1.75-1.75" basisexcept Japan and France.

Of airplane carriers America has 1 and is building 2, Great Britain has 3 and is building 3, Japan has none and is building 2, France has none and is building 1 and Italy neither has nor is building any.

As for the strength of the respective navies, in the various classes of craft, the figures shown on the accompanying diagram speaks for themselves in so far as figures can.

America's shortcomings in the matter of capital ships has been pointed out. Her destroyers, too, by reason of hurried war-time construction have not the strength that the figures indicate. Naval officers are also very critical of the country's coast defense submarines.

Japan, as has been shown, is keeping within her treaty limitations in all classes of craft to which the limit applies but is strictly up to or above the "5-5-3-1.75-1.75" basis in respect to other classes.

SPECIAL PLANS FOR WOMEN AT N. Y. CONVENTION

Lady Democrats Will Be Well Taken Care of There.

FASHION SHOW

Motor Corps of 1,000 Privately Owned Automobiles Will Have Charge of the Transportation.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May —A campaign keynote song, a women's motor transport crops and a fashion show for men are a few of the features women will introduce in New York during the National Democratic Convention next month.

The innovations are products of the Committee of Nine which, under the direction of Miss Elisabeth Marbury, national Democratic committeewoman from New York, has been charged with the duty of entertaining women delegates and visitors.

Irving Berlin, composer of song hits, has undertaken to fashion a Democratic song which truly will voice the aims, ambitions and ideals of the party.

The motor transport corps will be composed of approximately 1,000 privately owned automobiles which will be at the disposal of women convention delegates and visitors. Negotiations are under way by which Salvation Army Corps lassies will drive the cars. In any event, they will be chauffered by women.

One of the women's most spectacular contributions to the string of convention features is expected to be the fashion show. It will be staged the night of June 23.

As Miss Marbury describes it, the show will be presented in tableaux, garden parties, receptions, formal dinners, and so on, with chorus girls picked from several Broadway revues serving as mannequins.

As for the men: "We're going to have some male models in the show too, wearing the latest and most correct in men's attire," said Miss Marbury. "For what is more true than that the better a woman politician is dressed the better she represents her party, and that, next to being well-clothed herself, it is a woman's duty to see that her husband's attire is equally faultless."

Numerous sub-committees have been named by the Committee of Nine to develop other innovations for the convention women. Dr. Laura Riegelman heads the physicians and nurses group which will conduct the visitors through the city's hospitals and welfare institutions; Mrs. Charles Tiffany heads a social clubs group which will give the visitors entree to many exclusive local clubs for women; Jean H. Marsh, an attorney, heads a court sub committee that will conduct visiting women lawyers through the city's many institutions of jurisprudence; Mrs. Grover Whalen, wife of the commissioner of plant and structures, heads the city buildings and schools group; Mrs. Anne O'Hagen Shinn is chairman of the women news writers sub-committee; Mrs. Helen Naughton will supervise the sights and excursions group.

Then there is an All Church sub-committee which is arranging for special all-denominational union services at the principal churches on the Sunday prior to the convention opening.

POLICE OF AMERICA ARCHAIC IN METHODS SAYS CRIMINOLOGIST

LOS ANGELES, May —Desperate criminals roam throughout the nation without fear of apprehension: offenders are not convicted: vice is rampant: defective traffic control is causing tremendous loss of life and is retarding industrial growth, said Chief of police August Vollmer in a rejort made to the Police commission of Los Angeles.

The purpose of the report, Vollmer said, "is to point out the deficiencies of the present plan of recruiting and organization of police departments and to offer such suggestions as will ultimately operate materially to strengthen the department organization."

Despite the importance, intricacy and difficulty of the police problem in all large cities, the chief said, "no scientific study of the subject has been made by officials or academicians. Consequently, police departments have lagged considerably in the progressive march of civilization." He refers to present police organization as "archaic."

"An unfit policeman weakens the moral fibre of his associates and destroys public confidence in the department. The organization suffers and society pays the bill when policemen are dishonest, brutal, stupid, or physically or temperamentally unsuited. In fact, harshness, cruelty, arbitrainess and unnecessary exercise of police powers, produce crime, anarchy and kindred social and polictical ills.

"Our records show that even mentally unstable men have been appointed policemen and their condition has not been recognized by commanding officers until they have killed some innocent person, or have committed some heinous offense."

The salient points in Chief Vollmer's recommendations for more efficient conduct of the department are:

(1) The establishment of higher standards for educational, mental, moral and physical requirements.

(2) Placement of recruits under the observation of a medico-psychologist during their training period.

(3) Police authority should be withheld from every policeman until he has proved by his conduct and knowledge that he is capable of discharging the duties of his office.

(4)—Universities should be petitioned to provide preparatory and promotional courses for policemen.

(5) Creation of a crime prevention division and appointment of a trained criminologist to conduct the activities of the divison.

(6) Establishment of a merit system.

Washington Annuls Citizenship Grant Under Confederacy

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, May 26.—After residing in New Orleans virtually all his life, believing himself to be an American and exercising a citizen's suffrage, William Dixon Seymour has learned in federal court that he is a British subject. Seymour was born in Mexico of British parentage and his father was naturalized by the confederacy during the civil war.

The discovery that he was a British subject was made when Seymour attempted to obtain a passport to visit Europe. It was denied by the state department upon the ground that he could not prove his American citizenship. At the same time it was held that rights granted by the confederacy were not legal.

ADVANTAGES OF A LARGE SCHOOL

The advantages of a large school are similar to the advantages offered by any large enterprise. Any one who will stop to reason intelligently will recognize at once that a large enterprise can do many things, secure many benefits and afford many advantages not possessed by a smaller concern.

The large school attracts and secures better teachers.

The large school maintains better equipment.

The large school is, because of its extensive acquaintance, called upon to fill more and better positions with its graduates.

The large school can, for economic reasons, give greater value than any small school can possibly give.

The inspiration that comes from numbers, the enthusiasm that comes by association with willing workers, the training afforded by competitive effort, are of a value that cannot be expressed or estimated in dollars. This valuable training is only possible in a large school and alone is sufficient to recommend a large school to any intelligent person.

Your Confidence

YOU buy goods that you believe in; from concerns that you believe in. It all comes right down, sooner or later, to your confidence.

We recognize that. We are trying, in our business to deserve your confidence. When you buy anything here, we want you to be satisfied that you've purchased to the best advantage. We're not satisfied unless you are.

This attitude of ours toward our own business makes us scrutinize carefully the values we offer. We give more attention to the value we give than to the profit we get on a sale.

Value is the principal feature of Cornell-Wood-Board which we carry for you here. Cornell is different from other products of its kind, because it is all wood; tough wood fibre all through. It's triple-sized to resist moisture; mill-primed, ready for paint; oatmeal finish for artistic good looks on wall, ceilings and elsewhere. Broad clean panels like knotless boards.

For scores of suggestions read the booklet "165 Uses for Cornell-Wood-Board"—interesting reading.

The new Super Cornell-Wood-Board is over half again as thick as ordinary wall board. It does any wall board job better.

GREAT PROGRESS IS SHOWN ON DIXIE ROUTE A

"Free Days" Have Put Most Bad Places In Shape.

Volunteer Work of Men of Section and Funds From Cent-a-Gallon Gasoline Makes Progress Possible.

LEXINGTON, May 26.—Saturday night showed less than 500 feet of bed rock to be laid on the Scaffold Cane section of Dixie Route "A" to railroad crossing immediately south of Roundstone on the section between Berea and Mt. Vernon, in the long distance report from the Berea Bank and Trust company last night, John F. Dean, cashier, who stated this would be completed and every foot of the road rolled and put in safe travelable condition for motor travel in wet weather by Tuesday or Wednesday night of this week.

Remarkable progress has been made the past two weeks in constructing and improving the weak links on Dixie Route A in Kentucky, a hundred men from Corbin and London under the cooperative plan having worked out, rocked and put in good condition the hazardous places between London and Corbin, and permanent maintenance is assured. Regular bus schedule is now maintained between these two places.

The past week with a Free Day 375 men with teams and trucks from Barbourville, Wilton, Woodbine, Corbin and Dishman Springs, including farmers and miners along the road for several miles each side, put in good serviceable condition the worst mile of road between Barbourville and Corbin so that stretch is now travelable in all ordinary weather conditions.

Permanent Maintenance

Through the cooperative cent a gallon gasoline plan and investments from other communities, permanent maintenance crews will be kept on this 14 mile stretch between Woodbine and Barbourville, so that continuous motor travel will be kept moving over that section which has heretofore been impassable.

By the middle of the week, certainly not later than Saturday, May 31, all base rock on the 7 mile stretch between Berea and Rounstone railroad crossing will have been laid and rolled. A ten ton steam roller is in constant service keeping this base rock rolled down so motor travel may pass through with safety and reasonable comfort. Two rock crushers have been purchased and are now at work crushing surfacing rock which is being spread and rolled, so that in extreme wet weither motorists may pass over the road, one of the crushers was given by the business men of Lexington.

On May 20, eighty-seven men from Mt. Vernon, and 200 men from Berea, Richmond, Lexington, Paris and Asheville, N. C., and farmers along the road closed up all hazardous points on the Berea-Roundstone road. All work done on the road between London and Corbin May 9 and 13; between Barbourville and Corbin on the 19th and between Roundstone and Berea and between Barbourville and Corbin May 20 was free and saved over $2,500 in cost to the project for that reason.

Raise Money For Crusher

At a special meeting at Dishman Springs on the 19th, the need of a rock crusher for that section was presented, and in a competitive bidding conducted by M. Buckner, managing director, Asheville Western Carolina Motor club, $1,125 was raised in 12 minutes.

R. M. Beadles, president of the Asheville Motor club paid a high compliment to the people of Kentucky in their cooperative effort and will to provide a through highway, and led the bidding for cash with $50 from the Asheville organization.

Joseph Marvel, proprietor of Kenilworth Inn., Asheville, who came as a reprtsentative of Mayor J. H. Cathey and the Asheville Chamber of Commerce, said he was astounded at the extraordinary spirit of the community and the work the people had accomplished through their free days, the cent a gallon fund and the various community investments, all of which, he said, indicated the open road was but a matter of a week or so, and that it would continue to be improved.

C. O'Connor, supervising engineer of the Asheville organization told of the progress on other sections and showed the need of the rock-crusher, which was then on a siding with bill of luding attached, and that it could be put to work in 21 hours after release.

C. A. Blackburn and J. D. Jarvis, presidents of the Middlesboro and Barbourville Kiwanis clubs and Wade H. Candler of the Kentucky Dixie executive committee pledged continued cooperation and urged patronage of all filling stotions that were making the through road possible with the cent a gallon plan.

On motion of County Judge J. T. Stamper of Knox county, a monthly free day will be conducted on the road between Barbourville and Corbin until cold weather.

Ill Fortune Trails Greatest Hero

BACCALAUREATE SERMON LAST NIGHT ON LIFE

Dr. Douglas Gives a Splendid Message to Graduates.

GLEE CLUB SINGS

Less Commercialism Urged by Minister in Sermon—Commencement Program Rest of Week Announced.

Emphasizing the importance of spiritual development in young lives, Dr. R. E. Douglas preached the baccalaureate sermon to twenty-five high school graduates and a large audience of friends at the Central school auditorium last night.

The Girl's Glee club sang a processional while the graduates, clothed in formal caps and gowns, marched slowly down the aisle. These were followed by the members of the high school faculty. The Rev. Sam P. Martin pronounced the invocation The Rev. A. R. Price read the Scripture lesson from the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastic. The Rev. A. B. Reeves and Rev. W. K. McClure offered prayers during the service.

"What is your life?" was the text of the baccalaureate sermon. A person's life, declared the minister, is material, mental and spiritual. The physical should be subservant to the intellect while both mental and physical components should be obedient to the spiritual, he explained.

"Your life should not be a career but a mission," he told the graduates in connection with the statement that our highest duty is to perform service to our fellow man and to live in close touch with God. In this age of commercialism young people are likely to follow pursuits which offer the greatest pecuniary reward rather than their natural inclinations or the work for which they are best fitted, he declared. In this connection he said that the common question is "What do I get out of it?" He mentioned the coming campaign for organized charities as a worthy manifestation of the attitude of people on selfishness.

Supt. J. W. Bradner announced the Eighth Grade play Wednesday night, "The Windmills of Holland," and invited all to come; also the Senior graduating exercises Thursday night. The large auditorium was filled to capacity last night, all churches having dismissed for the occasion.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

A few of our customers are not familiar with our different services and rates.

In addition to the lighting service we have a commercial power service and a heating and cooking service.

This notice is to explain the Heating and Cooking Service.

When you have an Electric Range installed in your home, we run a separate set of wires to your house, and put in a separate meter to serve the range. This meter will register the current used for cooking, for which we have a special low rate.

We find that the usual bill for cooking is from $4.50 to $6.00 per month for the average family in Middlesboro.

You may also use your Iron, Percolator, Toaster, Hedlite Heater and other heating appliances on this low rate by connecting the mto the wires to your Electric Range. By doing so you take them off of your lighting service and thus reduce your light bill.

You can readily see that by reducing your light bill and applying the amount this saved to the payment of your cooking bill you will be able to cook electrically and enjoy the comforts of an electric home far above the same money you now spend for other fuel.

Isn't this worth considering? Talk it over with us the next time you are down town.
